MV Transportation Managing Transit Operations for Cape Cod Regional Transit Authority

Fairfield, Calif., (November 2, 2011) – Today, MV Transportation announced the successful start of its management contract with Cape Cod Regional Transit Authority (CCRTA). Under the new contract MV manages the entire operation including dispatch, reservations, scheduling and vehicle and property maintenance for CCRTA's fixed route and paratransit operations.

MV is based out of CCRTA's current operations and maintenance facility in South Dennis, MA and provides service to all of Cape Cod. The fleet consists of nearly 100 vehicles and completes approximately 540,000 trips per year.

Tom Cahir, Administrator for the Cape Cod Regional Transit Authority stated, "We are very pleased to be working with MV Transportation in a collective effort to significantly improve public transportation in our region. I could not be more impressed with their attention to detail, emphasis on customer service and professional approach in everything that they do. Everyone associated with MV has exceeded our expectations during the recent transition and now while under contract reinforcing my ambitious objectives toward making Cape Cod the very best public transportation region in the Commonwealth."

"MV is proud to begin this partnership with CCRTA and the passengers of Cape Cod. We are excited to have the opportunity to help the CCRTA team achieve their operational goals, as we lend our transit technology expertise to help the system become one of the most technologically advanced operations in the region," said Doug Gies President of MV's east region.

As one of the largest passenger transportation contracting firms in North America, MV Transportation contracts with several other transit agencies across the east coast.

About the Cape Cod Regional Transit Authority
