MV Transportation, Inc. Signs First Overseas Contract in Saudi Arabia

Fairfield, Calif., (February 2, 2012) – Today, MV Transportation, Inc., the largest privately-owned transportation contracting firm based in the United States, announced its first contract outside of North America. MV and Earadat Transportation, LLC entered into a new two-year management agreement on January 1, 2012. Under this contract, MV will provide management services for the operation of Earadat’s transit system in Saudi Arabia’s eastern province.

MV Transportation has appointed a General Manager and an Operations Manager to serve as the local management team and will have them in place before the end of February. This team will be responsible for the successful operation of Earadat’s passenger transportation system, a 416 bus operation providing transportation for Saudi Arabian Oil Company’s employees. In addition, the MV team will train Saudi Arabian citizens to assume management once MV’s contract has ended.

“It is an honor to be chosen for this important partnership with such a distinguished company,” said Carter Pate, CEO, MV Transportation. “For MV, this is the first step into a new market full of opportunities and we look forward to expanding our partnership with Earadat Transportation and other equally reputable partners throughout the Middle East.”

Since 2008, MV Transportation has worked on a similar project for a Bechtel/Jacobs Joint Venture, representing Motiva Enterprises in its Port Arthur, Texas Crude Expansion Project. MV manages employee transportation for nearly 2,500 construction workers each day.
